Dear Chairmen Harkin and Kingston and Ranking Members Moran and DeLauro:

On behalf of the 47 undersigned organizations representing the Nursing Community coalition, we respectfully urge you to fully support the Nursing Workforce Development Programs (Title VIII of the Public Health Service Act [42 U.S.C. 296 et seq.]) and the National Institute of Nursing Research (NINR—one of the 27 Institutes and Centers at the National Institutes of Health) as you finalize the FY 2015 appropriations process. Collectively, the Nursing Community represents over one million registered nurses, advanced practice registered nurses, nurse faculty, researchers, and students, and is committed to promoting efforts that advance the health of our nation through nursing care. As the demand for high-quality care intensifies, there must be a firm investment in the nation's largest healthcare workforce, registered nurses.

Administered by the Health Resources and Services Administration, the Title VIII Nursing Workforce Development Programs have been instrumental in bolstering the nation's nursing pipeline for 50 years. Title VIII programs address all aspects of nursing workforce demand, including education, practice, recruitment, and retention. The federal dollars invested in Title VIII benefit not only the recipients of these programs, but more importantly the countless patients who receive exceptional care from the nurses these programs support.

Equally critical to building a robust nursing workforce is investing in the science that drives nursing practice. The work of NINR contributes to the body of evidence that improves care delivery and quality of life. Research projects funded through NINR are aimed at reducing burdensome chronic illness, improving quality of life, and promoting patient-centered care. From this perspective, NINR's unique focus on health promotion and disease prevention provide the cornerstone for advancing health and wellness.

Once again, while we understand that you are working under a challenging fiscal climate, we impress upon you the importance of supporting the health of our nation by providing full funding for the Title VIII Nursing Workforce Development Programs and NINR. If our organizations can be of any assistance, or if you have any questions, please contact Convener of the Nursing Community, Dr. Suzanne Miyamoto, at Smiyamoto@aacn.nche.edu or 202-463-6930, ext. 247.
